

HAVE YOU SEEN?

1. Gary Petersen's limited-edition prints from Davis Editions explore the playful side of geometry and color to bring visual interest. daviseditions.com

2. Crafted by Italian artisans, the Architex Inovasi collection offers vegan sueded leather fabrics. Patterns Antico, Flannela, and Logoro are constructed in a durable top-layer of 100% Italian brushed polyester with a mid-layer polyurethane foam to give the feel and weight of real sueded leather. All patterns are Proposition 65 compliant. architex-ljh.com

3. Dutch East Design paired with Jamie Stern to create FLOAT. The collaborative collection consists of soft, rounded chairs and barstools supported on understated legs designed to express the negative space between the furniture and the ground. Each of the styles can be upholstered in Jamie Stern leather or the customer's own material, and the welded steel frames come in muted painted tones available in black, white, and brass. jamiesterndesign.com

4. In Walnut Grove, Stickley has combined flowing lines inspired by modern design with moments of sophisticated handwork that showcase the furniture-maker's art. Contours are carefully sculpted, and structural elements are set apart to incorporate air and create a floating lightness. stickleycontract.com

5. Detailed with matte gold trim, plush velvet headboard panel, and scalloped drawer fronts, the freestanding Hightower headboard and nightstand combo from Kimball Hospitality can function as a divider between living room and sleeping quarters. kimballhospitality.com
